Robert came the office complaining about the appearance of his old crowns. He did not like the dark lines around the edges and wanted to correct the spaces between his teeth. After a full evaluation, which included taking his facial structure and overall condition of his teeth into consideration, Dr. Rodgers suggested he replace the crowns with metal free, porcelain crowns and place porcelain veneers on the other teeth within the critical smile zone. The entire process is virtually painless and can be accomplished in just a few visits.

After the evaluation visit where molds were made, a full model was created to show Robert exactly what could be accomplished. The teeth were then prepared for the new crowns and veneers. A few weeks later Robert came in and the new crowns and veneers were bonded into place, giving him a beautiful smile. Robert was seen a week or so later for a quick follow-up where minor changes were made to insure complete comfort. Porcelain veneers and crowns are certainly one of the most dramatic ways to improve your smile.
